

PUBLIC WORKS

Under the new works-relief program, all applications for new projects are made up and submitted to the Division of Applications and Information, here at Washington, which is headed by Frank C. Walker, of the National Emergency Council.

If the project has already been submitted to the Public Works Administration, it will not be necessary to re-submit it to the Division of Applications and Information.

The general provisions as laid down by President Roosevelt on such projects are:

1. Projects must be useful.
2. It should be of such a nature that a considerable portion of the money will go to employ labor.

3. Projects that promise a return to the Treasury of a portion of the cost will be sought, that is, self-liquidating projects.

Funds allotted for each project should be actually and promptly spent and not held over until later years.

All projects must be of such character that people on relief rolls can get employment.

6. Projects will be allocated in localities and areas in relation to number of workers on relief rolls in those areas.

SOLDIER'S BONUS

By the time this letter is printed no doubt the Senate will finally have passed the Patman Bonus Bill for the payment of the Adjusted Service Certificates held by the ex-service men of the late World War. It is expected that the President will veto the bill. But it is also confidently predicted here that the House will override the President's veto by a substantial majority. The real battle ground will then shift back to the Senate where both sides predict success. As a matter of fact the vote in the Senate on the question of sustaining or overriding the President's veto, in my judgment, will be very close. There won't be many votes to spare either way.

There are many of us Democrats who feel that the President should not veto the bill in the first instance. Unquestionably the payment under the Patman plan would be a great stimulant to the Recovery program of the President. Moreover, it would once and for all settle this problem, and the bonus issue would no longer be the football of politics which it has been for the past several years.

WASHINGTON NOTES

NOT SO

Contrary to published reports, James Roosevelt, eldest son of the President, will not be attached to the White House, with or without title, with or without pay.

HIGH PAY

There are 988 persons on the Federal payroll getting $10,000 or more per year, and 7,223 receiving between $5,000 and $10,000 annually. One half of those in the lower bracket are connected with the Navy.

ATTENTION

The resolution of Senator Tydings, Democrat, of Maryland, to automatically provide a balanced budget, has little chance of passage but is attracting considerable attention.

RESENTMENT

House debate on the banking bill reflected marked resentment against big financial interests and the idea that "three of four men" controlled the country's banking system.

ICKES WINS

The House voted 243-92 to give Secretary Ickes an under-secretary, although several weeks before the vote there was quite a bit of talk about "rebutting" him by refusing his request.

NEEDS FUNDS

The Senate Munitions Committee wants $45,000 to continue its investigation which has already cost $100,000. It contemplates a study of the part banks and bankers played in our entrance into the World War and the proposed nationalization of the munitions industry.

Banks of the nation have given notice through the American Bankers' Association of their intention to fight to keep the Reserve System free from political control.

STIRS LABOR

Contractors under the Work-Relief program will hire men off the relief rolls, regardless of their labor affiliation. This statement by Harry L. Hopkins, director of the program, has produced some rumblings in union labor circles.

PATMAN WINS

Passage of the Patman bonus bill by the Senate was a big surprise, which caught veteran correspondents napping. In fact, just about the time some of its supporters were ready to jump to the Vinson Bill there was an avalanche of letters and the Patman bill was through.

CITY ENDEAVORING TO PROCURE FEDERAL FUND FOR COMMUNITY CENTER

Commissioner H. Grady Perkins, Program Speaker Before Rotary, Speaks of City's Endeavors

H. Grady Perkins, member of Board of Mayor and City Commissioner, was guest speaker before the Bay St. Louis Rotary Club, organization of local business and professional men, on the occasion of the regular weekly meeting Tuesday evening at The Answer.

Commissioner Perkins was introduced in glowing terms by the President and received quite a warm ovation. During the course of his address on public matters as they concern the city and public, he dwelt on the subject of procuring funds from the government's newest appropriation with which to build a community center or recreational center.

He said the city had already contacted with the powers that be through the offices of Senator Pat Harrison and Senator Theodore Bilbo, seeking at least an appropriation of $50,000. This amount, he said, was in line with that originally incorporated in the recently proposed bond issue for the city when it was proposed to build a public pier and building. He said the city was not particular regarding what sort of project could be had—either a community building and grounds for the public or a pier and buildings.

"The city has long felt the need of such improvement," he said. "We have thousands of visitors here every season, many of whom, seeking recreation have no where to go after they get here, unless they are privately acquainted. We must have accommodations and such facilities for the visiting public that will make their first visit one of many to follow. We have all the natural advantages possible; nature has been lavish, but there are such facilities that we must provide and if the government is prepared and will provide for such funds as are necessary for the carrying out of this project then we must keep busy in the premises."

"The billions to be spent will prove of manifold benefit over the nation. It can be had for the asking and the city is not going to be remiss in the asking."

Bay-St. Louis has long suffered for the lack of such recreational facilities and there was never a more

BUILDING HEAD OF STREETS

Force of Workmen Hardsurfacing Certain Areas For Better Drainage

A force of workmen are working this week hardsurfacing the head of State street and preparing to do the same work at the intersection of the Montluzin avenue with North Beach Boulevard and Esterbrook street connecting with the paved surface of Second street. This is done to better protect the street from erosion and to make for better drainage.

Work is in progress at both heads of State street and de Montluzin avenue, 40 feet from the beach boulevard back to a point between both the A. & G. Theater Bldg., and the Echo Bldg., and approximately twenty feet of the avenue. Thirty feet is planned to be hardsurfaced for Esterbrook street.

This work has been in mind by the mayor and city commissions for some time and is in line with their program for public protection and improvement at minimum costs. The work is under the supervision of the street department. Both Mayor Blaize and Commissioner Perkins are personally supervising from time to time, while Commissioner W. L. Bourgeois holds the fort down at the city hall.

opportunity time than the present to get busy.

Commissioner Perkins was asked several questions regarding progress of the Shortcut as it affected Hancock county, and could only answer the questions as an individual and not officially. His talk proved of constructive interest and the hope was expressed that the program committee of Rotary would soon have him again.

FEDERAL PROJECT RECREATIONAL EVENT AT HANCOCK CC CAMP

Miss Besancon, County Supervisor, Active—Spring Festival For Taylor School

A program of the unusual and proving highly successful in more ways than one was the "sailor party" given on Wednesday evening of last week at the CCC Camp in Hancock county, given under auspices of ERA, federal project, with Miss Lucille Besancon, county supervisor, directing the recreational activities.

The evening was known as that of "open house," and the party divided into four crews, four boats, the latter designated by names—the Neptune, Yan Shan, Isabelle, Nobby Dick, the section known as the Neptune winning for the number and more successful stunts presented.

Miss Besancon is very active in the cause and her work over the county is meeting with hearty response and general approval.

Dance Friday Evening
There will be a dance at the Camp this Friday evening and the usual invitations, under the same rules as prevail, will continue.

Miss Besancon, under same auspices she represents, will give a Spring festival at the R. W. Taylor School, Bay St. Louis, this Friday afternoon, from 2 to 5 o'clock, for the children and patrons. The public interested is invited to enjoy and participate in the recreational interest thus promoted.

ANNUAL COLLEGE BANQUET

Parents Association Observes Mother's Day—Mrs. Pepperdene, Toast Mistress.

About sixty-five members of St. Stanislaus College Parents' Association and their guests enjoyed the annual Mother's Day banquet, given in the college dining hall last Sunday.

Mrs. Kenneth W. Pepperdene, of Bay St. Louis, was the clever and accomplished toast mistress for the occasion. Mrs. J. W. H. Redmann, president of the Association, was the initial speaker. She dwelt on the splendid co-operation received from the members in her city, and also from the members in Bay-Waveland.

Mrs. E. C. Carrere, president of the Association, paid beautiful tribute to Mother and Mother love and, in closing her talk, took occasion to thank all members for the work accomplished during the year, extending special thanks to the chairmen of the various committees which functioned so well.

Dr. C. L. Horton, attending physician at the college, for the past twenty years, and dean of the medical fraternity of Bay St. Louis, thanked the Hospitality Committee for the opportunity given him to be present and in order he might tell of whole-hearted co-operation he has always received from the Brothers and to others in charge wherever and whenever his services were called.

Rev. Father Leo P. Fahey went back to the "dark and almost prehistoric past" for the reason of Mother's Day. He paid glowing and just tribute to Mother in a poem which he paraphrased from a celebrated author.

"Brother William, president, St. Stanislaus, thanked all members of the Association for the telling help they have given the college, not only for this year but also for the preceding years. His talk was an earnest of his appreciation.

The Hospitality Committee, having the dinner in charge, contributed appreciably in making the banquet enjoyable to all. The following named ladies were most helpful in contributing their time to the decorations: Mrs. K. W. Pepperdene, Mrs. John W. Bryan, Mrs. Edmund F. Fahey, Mrs. Harry C. Glover, Mrs. E. C. Carrere, Mrs. Francis J. Bopp, Mrs. E. Scales.

CITY HIGH SCHOOL MAY QUEEN BALL IS EVENT OF BEAUTY AND PLEASURE

Miss Abbie Bourgeois Crowned Queen—Edward Anderson King—Large Court Entourage Presents Scene Of Youth and Beauty

HOSPITAL SHOWER MONDAY

Annual Shower Day Observed on Birthday of Mrs. (Mayor) G. Y. Blaize

In compliment to the wife of the city's chief executive, board of directors and managers of Bay St. Louis King's Daughters Hospital, Bay St. Louis, gave its annual linen shower on Monday, May 13, during the afternoon hours.

Quite a number of friends of the cause of the hospital were present and responded liberally. A birthday cake, from The Answer, Mrs. W. L. Bourgeois, was presented and cut for the occasion. Other refreshment was served following the shower and while serving a laudable purpose the guests enjoyed the social aftermath.

The linen shower is given each year and by this method serves as a medium for any who wish to help the local institution. It appears, while notice to the effect that the shower would be given, published some two weeks ago, the date escaped attention of a number who expressed disappointment at not being present. However, it is not too late to contribute to the shower. Gifts will be received by Mrs. Craft, superintendent of the hospital, or by anyone in charge.

Give to the King's Daughters "In His Name."

Congress, if the truth must be told, hasn't done much—yet. The delay is mostly in the Senate and the report is that the President is ready for the legislators to spend the summer in Washington if necessary to get measures passed.

Tung Oil Industry To Be Gold Mine For South Mississippi—State Is Chosen Favored Area

Ten Million Dollar American Market Awaits Growers—Heretofore, Oil Has Been Imported From China—Vast Industry Awaits.

A new agricultural industry which promises to add $10,000,000 or more annually to the income of farmers in a restricted area and may mean that several counties in South Mississippi become a veritable garden spot, is a summary in a recent series of meetings in Florida, Alabama and Mississippi.

Tung oil is essential to the American paint and varnish industry, the Commissioner stated, saying that present supplies are unsatisfactory and that American manufacturers are eager for a home supply that is stable, sure and superior.

"American industries last year used about $11,000,000 worth of tung oil. Less than one-half per cent of this was produced in America; the remainder was imported from China. To satisfy American requirements an added farm income of $10,000,000 or more annually will be available.

"The tung tree has flourished in a wild or semi-wild state in China for centuries, and the oil expressed from the nuts in a crude and primitive manner. During recent years probably 60,000 acres have been planted in America, and there is evidence that profitable yields may be had and that domestic oil is vastly superior to the foreign product.

"Because of its susceptibility to cold and frost, the tung tree can be grown only in an area extending probably not more than 100 miles or so northward from the Gulf, and on probably not more than 30 per cent of the land in this restricted area. Even then half the nation's acreage is in Mississippi.

"The production of not less than 100,000,000 pounds of tung oil annually is almost a national industrial necessity. The adjustment of agricultural necessity.

"A new cash crop in the proven area is a local necessity."

It would almost exhaust the vocabulary of adjectives to adequately describe and do justice to the city high school May Queen Festival and Ball given Wednesday evening of this week at Uncle Charlie's Nite Club, under auspices of Parent-Teachers' Association Central School.

Miss Abbie Bourgeois of Bay High, was selected queen by popular vote, and had as her king, Edward Anderson, also of Bay High.

Miss Bourgeois was radiant in youthful loveliness. She was dressed in white mouslin de soie with a mantle of gold cloth, lined with blue. She carried white roses, and carried the regal honors with all becoming dignity and grace.

Miss Phyllis Kidd, acclaimed by popular vote, was maid of honor, very attractive and pretty, attired in yellow organdy, and carried yellow gladiolas to correspond. Her duke was Alton Erwin.

Marcella McQueen, as the queen's flower girl, in white, and Maxine Strong, maid of honor's flower girl, in yellow pastel shade, were both idols of the evening. They captured the audience and won the unanimous admiration of everyone present. The court presented a scene not soon to be forgotten. Here was youth and beauty, youth and gallantry at best, and formed a fitting picture. Thus the success of the beauty and loveliness of the affair was no secret. Every phase of thought and taste conspired to make it the success it so indelibly stamped itself.

The personnel of the court follows:

REALTY VALUES HOLD

A GENTLEMAN residing locally was recently heard to say that his investments on paper had vanished with the economic tragedies of the past few years but that his real estate remained. While the market value was probably not up to the true standard, as yet, none of the intrinsic value had been lost. It was far better, he learned to have invested in Gulf Coast property, with a certain potential worth that will never cease, than to buy stock and securities that would probably shrink if not lost entirely. It has been counted that some thirty pieces of valuable property remain along the Bay-Waveland front that are now available for purchase. After these are sold, it was asserted, there would be nothing to be had at desirable prices. This is hardly debatable and the opinion expressed well stands. It is food for thought and for action. The moral is: Buy now.

SHOULD EAT GRASS

MAN may not be wiser than animals in his refusal to eat grass, according to recommendations of one scientist in an address to the American Chemical Society. C. F. Schnabel thinks grass a good substitute for spinach and carrots, especially for those who cannot afford green vegetables when they are expensive. This gentleman reported the discovery that young cereal grasses, such as oats, wheat, barley and rye, when cut prior to jointing in twenty days, had a biologic value from two hundred to five hundred per cent. Greater than any of the twenty common vegetables. The dried grass, he says, smells and tastes like malted milk. As far as we are personally concerned, even before the scientist made his report, we could have told anybody that grass would be preferable to spinach.

BRINGS COMPLICATIONS

AGRICULTURAL products in this country, for the major part are being curtailed in order to prevent over-production. Farmers now on the land can produce so much that the market is over-supplied and prices tumbled to disastrous levels. Yet, it is planned to "rehabilitate" many city-dwellers by establishing them on small farms. This policy must be carefully managed. As recently said by Chester A. Davis, "If society is going to make the agricultural land the shock absorber for refugees of industry, then it must give bond to those now engaged in agriculture, together with the additional numbers to undertake it, so that they will be able to operate on levels enjoyed by other social classes." He spoke for the agricultural arm of the Federal Government.

HAIL THE GRADUATE

SOMEONE has said this is the season of the candidate. He occupies the middle of the stage, the front seat and is the center of all attraction. This is not so. What about the graduate in this May-June time? The graduate has his inning. The season, as well as the world, is his. He and she alike hold place both in the mind and heart. The graduate is a finished product, to a certain extent, and is ready for the world. With a long and wide vista ahead there is the rainbow in the offing and high hopes are calling. Ambition is beckoning. New conquerors are about to embark and our best wishes for the future go with the graduate who has worked well and valiantly for years and is now ready to come into just reward.

HERE'S A SCOOP!

SCORE The Echo with a scoop! This is probably the first swat-the-fly editorial that you have read in 1935. Well, it isn't too early to begin the campaign to destroy the carriers of typhoid. Get your swatter and get busy. Score a scoop yourself by taking this offensive, see that your premises contain no place to harbor flies and that none are allowed to linger in your home. It is much wiser to spend a few dollars on screens and health preventive measures than to pay for medicine and professional services.

The gubernatorial campaign in Mississippi seems to have opened in earnest, each of the gentlemen in the several-cornered race having delivered his initial campaign address and promulgated his platform. Messrs. White and Murphree seem to be well in the lead and it is generally conceded both will be in the second primary.

One hardly buys a piece of novelty or other merchandise if the stamp "Made in Japan" is not found almost hidden in some recess, but nevertheless the inscription is there. A local citizen, astute student of current events and also of the trends of things calls attention to this unwarranted buying of merchandise by Americans from a nation whose attitude is not above suspicion. We purchased "Made in Germany" goods before the war beyond limit. As a matter of policy it might be well to "go slow" on buying "Made in Japan" goods. It well comes under the doctrine of "buy at home."

PUBLISHERS TO BOOST COAST

VISITORS to Bay St. Louis and thru over the Gulf Coast to a point east resulted in much advertising that is favorable and will bear fruit for some time to come. The visiting newspaper publishers from all sections of the United States were unanimous that this section facing the waters of the Gulf of Mexico possessed both climatic and scenic elements as a combination that could hardly be found elsewhere. The Southland, they agreed, was nature's own garden with a charm all its own, and that the Mississippi Gulf Coast was the one favored spot. The publishers were given written data and picture cuts of this section in order they may use them for the many and various write-ups in their periodicals when they return home. The value of such advertising, both in quality and quantity, since it will cover the United States, cannot be overestimated.

NEW BOOST FOR POSTOFFICES

A PRESS report from Jackson is to effect that "an amazing number of second class post offices in Mississippi will climb into the first class, if the send-a-dime chain letter craze lasts a few more days, postal inspectors declared here Saturday. "Pointing out that they can't laugh off the heavy increase in mail here, the officials, in all seriousness, said the tremendous volume of mail—it has claimed 65 per cent in Jackson—will, if kept up a few days, boost many state post offices into higher brackets. Recalling that this is election year, and that already campaign literature is stuffing the mails, they see a probability of many higher-classed post offices when the year-end tabulations are made up."

We urge our readers to buy from advertising merchants who sell advertised products. If they were not good there wouldn't be any use to spend money telling you about them.

NOT FAR-OFF AS IT MAY SEEM.

WHILE many of our readers and others have almost lost hope for the early completion of the Miss-La. Shortcut and now look upon the project as something indefinitely deferred, some bright morning we are going to be awakened to see this work finished and autos going to and fro in apparently endless numbers. We remember how quickly, in comparative sense, the Bay St. Louis bridge was built and put into use—almost overnight. At one time this was deemed well nigh as an impossibility. Then there were no end of delays; the original contractor forfeited his contract; piling and other material rejected. Then the work progressed slowly until finally the bridge became both an actuality and accomplishment.

OUR CITY ADMINISTRATION

THE present administration of the city of Bay St. Louis will go down in local history as one of the most conservative, business-like and progressive of its kind. We find the city has been operated on a close budget, paid off considerable indebtedness and in a measure has not stinted on improvements and for the general overhead of operating the city. This is refreshing and not only interesting to those who pay the tax bills but commendable. There is a general inclination the world over to condemn. We are too prone to see the shortcomings and failures but not ever ready nor willing to praise where praise belongs.

We see where a man in Ohio, dying, left $500 to one who "was kind to me." This ought to start a wave of kindness.

IMPROVEMENTS ADD TO VALUE

THERE is much to be said for the community where individuals and property owners are conscious of the necessity of improving private premises. A painted house, a well-kept yard, a lawn and garden are evidences of significant improvement. Strangers visiting such communities where such order of things consistently prevail at all seasons soon become impressed, and as an advertisement and one of material value nothing as a parallel surpasses. It has been said that one can easily tell who resides in the house where the front gate is off a hinge, where the weeds grow and where a picket or more is off the front fence. We need not tell. You know, dear reader.

WE HAVE ONE OF OUR OWN

A NUMBER of newspapers over the State are calling attention to local building booms, as termed, which are by no means of small proportion. There seems to be almost any amount of remodeling, repairing and painting jobs. This applies as well to the Bay-Waveland section. A tab on the number of dwellings in process of construction and the many undergoing general renovation reveals that we are having quite a little boom of our own. No doubt this is an indication of value whereby we may gauge the immediate future.

Improving your own premises is one way in which you can make a positive contribution to the betterment of Bay St. Louis.

ANNUAL TOLL OF LIFE

THIS is the time of the season when a severe toll is taken on human life. Auto fatalities every week-end; picnic parties ending in tragedies where swimming water abounds. One almost dreads to pick up the Monday morning newspapers. The usual Don'ts are issued every year, but grim death takes its toll annually just the same. Last week-end the toll in the Louisiana-Mississippi sector was appalling. Let us advise caution and practice it ourselves. Less speeding on the highways would reduce the number of fatalities.

Letters to the editor are invited. They should be brief and sensible, if possible.

WITH THE PRESS

DENNIS MURPHREE ON RIGHT TRACK

(West Point Times-Leader)
THE Daily Times Leader isn't supporting Dennis Murphree for Governor. All three of the leading candidates are our personal friends, and we sincerely believe that either of them would make the State an excellent Chief Executive. Yet we simply cannot resist the temptation to say that Dennis Murphree is on the right track, so far as his platform is concerned, and that he is the only candidate who has thus far had the courage to tell the people frankly that they cannot have free school books, nine-month rural schools and $2,500 exemption of homes, without and increase in taxes. If our people want these things, and are willing to pay for them, well and good. In a democracy such as ours, the people are supposed to compose the court of last resort. But candidates for office should be frank and honest with the voters. Anything less is demagoguery of the most flamboyant sort.

ONE SUBSTANTIAL IDEA

(Jackson News)
EDGAR Harris, of the West Point Times-Leader, is another editor who can't find anything to get excited about in the platforms of any of the candidates for Governor.

"There is not a single constructive thought in the platform of any candidate," says the Times-Leader. Almost correct, but not quite. That idea of Hugh White to balance agriculture with industry is practical and progressive.

Mississippi will never get on a basis of substantial prosperity until we quit shipping our raw resources to other states to be manufactured into finished articles of commerce.

Mr. White is pointing a practical way to do this. His platform on that point is constructive. Our most urgent need today is more industries. The Columbia industrialist has shown how it can be accomplished. There is not a vacant building or idle person in his home city, Columbia. Other cities, aided in a very substantial way by Mr. White, notably Meridian and Hattiesburg, have recently secured important new industries in spite of depression.

If Mississippi will place in the Governor's chair an industrial Governor, one who will devote his time and energy to upbuilding the state and getting the uttermost value for our raw materials, the old Magnolia State will begin to show some real progress.

NOW WHATTHEHELL!

(Jackson News)
LESTER Franklin, candidate for Governor, speaking at Tupelo, declared himself in favor of immediate payment of the soldier bonus. Now whatthehell has the Governor of Mississippi got to do with the bonus? Just some more flimsy language framed to catch votes—sweetening spread out on stick fly paper. This gubernatorial campaign will be famous in history for its dysentery of language and constipation of thought.

His platform is good from bottom to top, every plank in it. He believes we should have good roads within the bounds of reaching he believes in is pay as you go. In other words he is not in favor of burdening the people to death with taxation. We have had bad roads for a thousand years, why not be content to have good roads in a few years, instead of all at once. If he had but one plank in his platform, pay as you go, it alone should elect him Governor of Mississippi.

How Cardui Helps Women To Build Up

Cardui stimulates the appetite and improves digestion, helping women to get more strength from the food they eat. It is a nourishment which improves the blood, builds up certain functional parts of the body, and helps women to get back to good health. Mrs. E. E. Smith, of Boston, W. Va., writes: "After the birth of my last baby, I did not seem to get my strength back. I took Cardui and was soon sound and well. I have given it to my daughters and recommend it to other ladies. Thousands of women suffer from lack of strength. Cardui does not cost you, consult a physician."

With The Movies And Film Folks

THERE'S no doubt about the fact that the story material for the present day movie productions is being based on a much higher grade than formerly. Of course, there are still those stories that make the average movie fan wonder how it came to be produced, but generally speaking, the stories are better and designed to make an appeal to the mind.

Following the success of Radio's production of "Laddie," based on the well known Gene Stratton-Porter novel, this studio is planning the immediate production of "Freckles," with the probability that Anne Shirley and Tom Brown will be featured.

According to news from Hollywood, Mae West's new apartment is amply provided with mirrors. She even had one placed in the ceiling directly above her bed in order that she might see herself while reposing.

Gary Cooper is to be featured by Paramount in its picturization of Rudyard Kipling's story, "The Light That Failed."

Under an agreement with Fox Films, John Boles has been borrowed to appear in Paramount's "Rose of the Pancho," in which Gladys Swarthout, Metropolitan Opera Star, will make her screen debut.

Warner Brothers intend to continue the "James Cagney-Pat O'Brien" combination for still another picture. They will be together in "Slim," concerning the adventures of high-tension wiremen, based on the novel of the same name by William Wister Haines.

Twentieth Century is planning quite an elaborate cast of radio stars to appear in its production of "Sing, Governor, Sing," on which work will begin in July. Among those to appear are Fred Allen, comedian, Paul Whiteman and his band, Phil Baker, with his stogees Beetle and Bottle, Rubinoff and his violin, and Harry Stockwell, who will act the romantic lead.

Paramount also intends to glorify some of the radio stars, having signed Amos 'n' Andy, Willie West, and McGinty, Fox and Walters, not to mention Burns and Allen and Bing Crosby, for "The Big Broadcast of 1935."

According to latest reports, Maurice Chevalier has returned to French music halls for an extended appearance. The news hasn't disturbed Hollywood film producers much as they had already begun to notice the decline in Chevalier's box office attraction.

Buck Jones, cowboy film star, is reported to have signed a new contract which calls for quite an increase in salary, said to be more than $25,000 a picture. Jones completed two serials and five feature films during the screen year 1934-35.

Friday morning, May 10th, 1935 at 9 o'clock A. M. Board met pursuant to adjournment, present as on yesterday.

This day came on for hearing and consideration by the Board of Supervisors of Hancock County, Mississippi, petition of William A. Keller for a reduction in the assessment of real property assessed to the said petitioner, as the owner thereof at the page and line on said 1934-35 real roll, as shown in petition, the said reduction being asked on the ground that said assessment is an assessment on property which did not exist and was not owned by or in the possession of the party to whom assessed on the next preceding tax lien date.

And it appearing to the Board of Supervisors from the evidence, both oral and documentary, offered in support of said application, that the circumstances alleged in said petition as grounds for relief, are true and that said assessment is erroneous and that the said property did not exist, nor was it by or in possession of the party to whom it was assessed on the next preceding tax lien date.

It is, therefore, ordered by the Board of Supervisors of Hancock County that the said assessment of William A. THE PRESS SPEAKS OUT

(Philadelphia (Miss.) Democrat)

If ever we heard a scratching criticism delivered on certain phases of the New Deal, and particularly NRA, we heard it recently during the New Orleans Convention of the National Editorial Association, a gathering composed of newspaper representatives from 44 States in the Union.

The press fell into step with NRA when it first began, much against its will, but in order to help the cause. For eighteen months, the press has not said much.

But now that the time for extension of NRA is at hand, the press of the nation is outspoken in its condemnation of the system that has promised much and delivered nothing.

As one speaker expressed it, the time has come when a $200-a-month shave-tail office man in Washington can tell a million dollar business what to do, and why and when.

If NRA is extended, it is doomed to an ever-lasting lambasting at the hands of the press and the people.

NRA has proved nothing but a scarecrow, a man of straw.
